As 2018 is coming to an end, are you and your organization prepared for 2019?

Is there a meeting topic that would interest you? Contact the Programs Chairman and make a suggestion.

Have you wanted to be more involved with your local chapter of IFMA? Contact a board member and discuss opportunities to help on a committee or become a board member.

Do you know a Facilities Professional that could benefit from educational opportunities and networking? Invite them to the next IFMA meeting.

Have you wanted to get an accreditation from IFMA? Check out the information below on classes being offered locally.

In the words of Warren Miller, "If you don't do it this year, you'll be another year older when you do."

Master Klean Janitorial, Inc

We enjoy our reputation as "The Distinctive Service People." We apply that to everything that we do and customer service is our highest priority.

Excellent service does NOT always cost more. In fact, several of our customers believe that our service translates to an investment in their business, not an expense.

IFMA National News
IFMA’s World Workplace Delivers Value in Charlotte

Facilities is an industry that leads to a lifetime of insights. Many work challenges are simply resolved through maintenance. The backbone of the company. World Workplace shed light onto some of those challenges; using effective communication with leadership, integrating AI into facilities with positive resolution, attracting millennials to your facilities, and so much more.

The IFMA Pikes Peak Chapter is your local resource to addressing those challenges. Through luncheons, networking with local facilities and reliable vendors within the community. Notify the board if there are certain topics you would like to hear on, or have interest in attending the 2019 World Workplace Conference.
