There is nothing quite like the month of December. Twinkling lights lining the streets and every building are a visual representation of the magic that everyone can feel all month long. Even with all of the joy and cheer being spread, December is still Seasonal Depression Awareness Month. This is a condition that affects over half a million people each year. Though there are many options for treatment, some people will turn to Emotional Support Animals to help alleviate the symptoms of this condition. Have you considered the rules and regulations for service animals in your building?

Join us at our next luncheon to learn more about what you can expect and what steps you need to take to be within the laws for having service animals in the workplace.

Master Klean Janitorial, Inc. is a commercial janitorial service that has been satisfying our customers since 1974. We know your cleaning needs and can meet them along Colorado’s Front Range. We enjoy our reputation as “The Distinctive Service People.” We apply that to everything that we do and customer service is our highest priority.

Excellent service does NOT always cost more. In fact, several of our customers believe that our service translates to an investment in their business, not an expense.

WHY? Because clean and sanitary buildings are proven to:

1. Increase employee productivity (reduced absenteeism and healthcare costs, increased employee satisfaction)
2. Reduce operating expenses (reduced risk and hazards, lower insurance costs)
3. Preserve assets (extended life through proper maintenance)
4. Increase building value (clean buildings sell for more $)(Sources: American Institute for Cleaning Sciences & EPA)

Reach out to Mura Golden with any questions or to schedule a service. Mura has years of experience in creating healthy environments and understands the needs of the Colorado Springs market.

Master Klean can help you to make a difference! Call us to find out how at (719) 268-6743.
